EDITOR'S OPINION

Fluoridation, Governor Brown, the stock market, the Democratic Party, the Dodgers, and the impregnability of the Warren Report all ended the year 1966 with a whimper. C. Vann Woodward, in a provocative article in Harpers, suggested that even the civil rights movement may be approaching the final whimper of what he terms The Second Reconstruction. The only BANG that seems to be heard -- unless you consider

RANDOM BOOK NOTES

Millie Hunter, Resolutions and Education co-chair and our immediate past president, has called our attention to the January 1967 issue of Ramparts which carries an article and several pages of color photographs on the children of Vietnam. Not recommended for those with queasy stomachs.

JANUARY GENERAL MEETING

TOPIC: "THE WARREN REPORT REVISITED
-- A DISCUSSION"

DISCUSSANTS: Prof. Wesley J. Liebler, UCLA School of Law, and an anti-Commission discussant to be announced

DATE/TIME: Wednesday, January 18th,
at 8:15 p.m.

PLACE: The Mulholland Club
2500 Crest View Drive

Professor Liebler served as an assistant counsel to the Warren Commission and will debate Mark Lane at UCLA on January 25th. For the past two years, he has been a professor at the UCLA School of Law, specializing in antitrust and corporate law. A graduate of the University of Chicago School of Law, he practiced with the New York firm of Carter, Ledyard & Milburn before coming to California.

Raymond Marcus -- author of "The Bastard Bullet -- A Search for Legitimacy for Commission Exhibit 399" who arranged several of Mark Lane's Los Angeles appearances two years ago and who specializes in the analysis of photographic evidence, including the Zapruder film -- initially agreed to appear on the program with Professor Liebler, but withdrew as THE DEMOCRAT went to press. Efforts are being made to secure another anti-Commission discussant for the meeting.

Please note that this meeting is being held on a Wednesday, instead of our usual Tuesday, in order to avoid conflict with a previously-scheduled Wonderland PTA meeting on January 17th.
