LONG DISPUTE SEEN OVER WARREN REPORT

12-15-66

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Allen W. Dulles, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency and a member of the Warren Commission, said Sunday he doubts a new investigation of President John F. Kennedy's assassination would silence criticism of the report's findings.

"People will always be around who will question the way Kennedy died,"

Dulles said in an interview telecast here.

He said it would be impossible to prove that Lee Harvey Oswald did not have a collaborator in the Nov. 22, 1963, slaying in Dallas. But, he added,

"I've seen no evidence, no hard evidence, that gives any possible clue to other assassins." END?
