

This photo is not especially important, for the background is badly blurred, but it does disclose whose foot is visible in the "Corham Garage" photo that shows a foot sticking out of JFK's car. Most captions indicate that it is JFK's foot. This photo shows that it is Clint Hill's.
