Jerry, you're invaluable.

I do not claim to know what releasing the stop on October 8,, 1963, means, but it's one hell of a coincidence that it was released while LHO was once again overseas traveling on a passport.

It's also rather bizarre, of course, that that document mentions LHO's promise to make all radar information available to the Soviets but then adds that subject has no information of use to the Soviets.

Subject: Gheesling (FBI) and Oswald

Jeff, Paul Hoch and I have just been exchanging about this privately but I think everyone ought to be in on it.

See <http://www.maryferrell.org/mffweb/archive/viewer/showDoc.do?docId=10100&relPageId=21>

This is the evidence that Mr. Gheesling of domestic intelligence in DC changed Oswald's status, lifting the "stop" on his id--whatever that means exactly which is a key question--on October 9, 1963, which is one hell of a coincidence since the message informing the FBI that LHO had called the Soviet Embassy in Mexico City was sent on the very next day. Surely that should have been enough to get Gheesling to reconsider his decision?

That document is the list of disciplinary action Hoover ordered and the reasons for them. It's very interesting although this particular copy is garbled--the next page isn't really the next page. But it points out that Hoover couldn't understand how a guy who had defected, returned, started subscribing to the Worker, and announced himself the head of an FPCC chapter hadn't been put on the Security index and drawn more attention. And I don't blame him.
