The following item appeared in "Chicago's American", a daily newspaper, Chicago, Illinois, in the column identified as "Daly Diary":

"Does the Warren committee know this? That a lovely looker, who dwells in Houston, Tex., was in Dallas the morning JFK was slain—and that her most generous gentleman friend in Mexico City phoned her from there and breathlessly instructed: 'Get out of there at once!' She took the first jet home. To her intimate friends (and one of ours) she allegedly stated that she 'feels' Lee Oswald was Castro's deputized murderer because Kennedy publicly pledged to Cuban exiles in Canaveral and Washington: 'I promise you all that one day soon you will return to a free Cuba!' Our source assures us that the lady is a nice person—not a name-dropper."

The "Daly Diary" is reportedly written by Columnist Maggie Daly of "Chicago's American".

On May 25, 1964, Mr. Luke Carroll, Managing Editor, "Chicago's American", Chicago, Illinois, advised a representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation that he would attempt to obtain from Maggie Daly the source for the information in the above article and also the name of the woman mentioned in the article.

On May 27, 1964, Mr. Luke Carroll, Managing Editor, "Chicago's American", Chicago, Illinois, advised a representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation that Maggie Daly emphatically refused to divulge the identity of the source of her information in the above-mentioned article and also refused to identify the woman mentioned therein. Mr. Carroll stated that he does not possess this information and in view of Maggie Daly's declination it is impossible for him to obtain the information desired.
