

COMMISSION EXHIBIT 369

However, I went on a mission to find Lovelady's arrow. I examined the whole area above and beside Doorway Man looking for it. Then it occurred to me: perhaps he drew it to someone else. So, I started by looking at the figure next to Doorway Man whom we call "Black Hole Man" since his face isn't visible. It's like a black hole in space where light can't enter, hence his name. I noticed right away a discreet mark on the forearm of Black Hole Man.
