The Honorable Bob Wilson
House Office Building
Washington, D. C.

Mr. Wilson:

I deem it a privilege to request counsel from you in a matter which should be brought out in the light before the public.

It is in reference to the House Congressional Record dated 14 May 1964, page 10608, the section dealing with the hiring of Professor Norman Redlich, a member of a known Communist front organization, The Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, as a member of the Warren Commission.

The Record states that Professor Redlich was hired as a consultant to the Warren Commission at a substantial salary, and issued a 'Top Secret' clearance necessary to membership in the Commission.

It seems subtly ridiculous to me, the layman, in that hiring a suspected subversive to a high Commission job, at Government expense is defeating the unbiased nature of the Commission's findings.

I do not believe the American people would sanction the hiring of a man associated with the enemy of freedom to a commission in part dedicated to the investigation of suspected links with President Kennedy's assassination and the Communist movement within the country and abroad.

I respectfully request the status of the inquiry, and if the results are public property, information as to what group or person accepted this man as part of the Commission, and who authorized his security clearance.

Very Respectfully,

Stephen R. Jones
