Chapter 10 of "Breach"

Oswald began work at the TSBD on October 16, 1963. The WC also knew that on October 15 a Robert Adams of the Texas Employment Commission phoned the Paine residence where Marina was staying with her babies. Adams left a message that he had an opening for Lee as a baggage handler at Trans Texas Airways with a quoted salary of $310/month. . . .that was $100 more per month than Lee would be making at the TSBD bldg handling text book orders for the Texas public schools. . .

Adams did not hear back so he called again the next day offering the same opening for Oswald if he was interested. Oswald was at work now and Ruth Paine took the call and told Adams that Lee was now employed. . . .that was that.

Point: A major reason Marina was living with Ruth Paine was because Lee could not afford an apartment large enough to house himself, Marina and two babies. That extra $100.00 might have made all the difference. But then he would not have been working in the building where, according to the official story, all of the shots originated on that fateful day.

Raises all kinds of issues about Ruth Paine. . . .and her govt. connections if she had any. . . .Mabe touch on this next week.
