I called Legat Anderson, Mexico City, at 3:55 p.m., today, with reference to his cable advising that Ambassador Mann would like to have a Bureau representative come down from Washington to Mexico City to fill him in on the full scope of the case and make suggestions for investigation in Mexico.

I told Anderson that Alexis Johnson of State Department had called over relative to this, and the Bureau had taken the position that it is not necessary to send a man down from here inasmuch as Anderson was handling the matter fully for us in Mexico City at this time. I told Anderson that apparently CIA is sending a man down from headquarters.
