On June 30, 1964, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED], who stated his identity must be protected at all costs in connection with the following information, advised SA ROBERT M. BARRETT as follows:

LARRY GROVE is a reporter for "The Dallas Morning News" who is considered to be very unreliable. GROVE is a close associate and fellow employee of HUGH AYNESWORTH, the reporter for "The Dallas Morning News" who wrote the articles concerning OSWALD's diary. On June 17, 1964, LARRY GROVE told a CBS crew that was in Dallas about OSWALD's diary and indicated he could obtain same if such crew was interested, but that it would have to be back in its place within a day or so. The CBS crew reportedly paid no attention to this offer. It should be noted that "The Dallas Morning News," for whom GROVE is employed, is affiliated with WFAA-TV, Channel 8, which is an ABC affiliate.

According to the above source, HUGH AYNESWORTH and WILLIAM F. ALEXANDER, Assistant District Attorney, Dallas County, Texas, are extremely close personal friends. The District Attorney, HENRY WADE, has been away from Dallas on a vacation for over a week. Source advised that ALEXANDER has access to the District Attorney's safe. Source advised that certain pictures of items allegedly from OSWALD's wallet which appeared in a past issue of "Life" magazine supposedly came from or through LARRY GROVE.

On July 3, 1964, [REDACTED] advised SA ROBERT M. BARRETT of the following additional information which he stated must be treated in absolute confidence:

[REDACTED] stated that he had learned from MARINA OSWALD that her attorney had made a deal with "Life" magazine whereby "Life" magazine would pay $20,000 for the rights to publish the diary of LEE HARVEY OSWALD. According to [REDACTED] MARINA's attorney would accept such a deal only with the provision that "Life" magazine divulge to him the source of the diary. [REDACTED] advised that MARINA stated that her attorney, WILLIAM A. MC KENZIE, was told that "Life" magazine received a copy of the diary from reporter HUGH AYNESWORTH of "The Dallas Morning News."
