RE: PHOTOGRAPH IN SATURDAY EVENING POST
RESEMBLING LEE HARVEY OSWALD

On December 11, 1963, a woman who identified herself as ALICE LEE GRAYSON, 1720 Bolton Street, Baltimore, Maryland, telephoned the Baltimore Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to advise that while reading the December 14 issue of the Saturday Evening Post, she noticed a picture of the Texas School Book Depository. The photograph was reportedly taken after the first shot was fired at President KENNEDY. It shows a man standing in the doorway of the Depository Building. Miss GRAYSON stated that the photograph showed the man had features resembling those of LEE HARVEY OSWALD and she believed this photograph might indicate that OSWALD was in a doorway of the building rather than in a window when the President was shot.

Miss GRAYSON had no further information concerning this matter.

Previous investigation has established that the individual in the photograph appearing in the December 14, 1963, issue of the "Saturday Evening Post" depicting a man standing in the doorway of the Texas School Book Depository Building on November 22, 1963, at the time of the assassination of President KENNEDY, was BILLY NOLAN LOVELADY, an employee of the Texas School Book Depository.
