

Daily News
Thurs June 26, 1980

LIZ SMITH

Naming names and facing facts

'A LWAYS CAST AGAINST the part and it won't be boring," said filmmaker David Lean.

Alan Aida's martini-drinking "M*A*S*H" pal, actor Mike Farrell, has the inside track to grab the film version of the life of Allard K. Lowenstein, who was murdered so brutally in his New York office earlier this year. The movie about the liberal politician and longtime Kennedy family friend should be tear-stained and inspiring.