Dear Sylvia,

I know, I'm a lousy writer, but then, what can you expect from an artist? Anyway, here is my piece in THE PROBE that may interest you. I have citations for most of the statements.

They are not, as you see, included in this piece. If you tell me to stick to my artwork and quit trying to be a writer, I will understand.

However, I feel that my work with the photographs is solid, even though the reasons I gave as to why this was done may puzzle you. I'm apologizing for this to you because I have great respect for your abilities both to your knowledge of the case and as a writer.

At any rate, I would appreciate having your comments on my amateur effort.

Respectfully,

FRED T. NEWCOMB
