Oswald Widow Seeks Privacy in New Home

Greenville (AP) — Away from word to newsmen that she had the "glass house" she wanted "nothing to say." to leave in Dallas, the widow "Just leave me alone," she said of Lee Harvey Oswald was in said.

her new house here today. Then her husband arrived. A newsman walked toward him. Tuesday was moving day for "I don't want to shake hands," said Porter. "I don't want to talk to you. I would appreciate it if you would just leave." He hurried into the house to join his wife.

the Kenneth Jess Porters, and said Porter. "I don't want to talk to you. I would appreciate it if you would just leave." He hurried into the house to join his wife. they were quick to tell Dallas newsmen they were happy to leave the town where, the Warren Commission says, Mrs. Porter's former husband shot and killed President John F. Kennedy and Policeman J. D. Tippit.

Marina, the blonde, Russian-born woman who married Oswald when he went to Russia and then accompanied him to Dallas County, wore a blouse and capri pants. "How would you like living in a glass house for all the world to see?" Mrs. Marina Oswald Porter asked as she prepared to leave Dallas. Porter was in his shirt sleeves in the near 100-degree temperature.

A few hours later, she was Their new home is on a side street in the southern section of this small cotton town. It has white asbestos siding and is trimmed in red brick. Nearby is the high school football stadium.

Marina, her three children — two by Oswald and an infant born July 3 — and a woman friend drove up to the modest frame and brick home. Across the street lives Greenville's "policeman of the year," W. G. Stigall. He's a friend of Police Capt. Narvel Gasway and Sgt. Dwight Gasway.

From across the street, Marina could be seen carefully looking over the neighborhood. The Gasways are brothers of Mrs. J. D. Tippit, widow of the Dallas policeman killed a short time after the Kennedy assassination. Finally she left her car and started walking toward the house. A news photographer raised his camera.

"Oh, no!" said Mrs. Porter. A few houses away lives Richard E. Porter, a Greenville fireman who is a brother of Marina's husband. She ran into the house, leaving her children with her friend.

A few minutes later she sent Sgt. Gasway, when told Marina was moving to town, said "she's free to move where she wants to."
