On July 29, 1964, Special Agent IVAN D. LEE, assisted by Special Agent ROBERT M. BARRETT, took the following described photographs with a Bureau-owned Speedgraphic camera of the sixth floor window located in the southeast corner of the Texas School Book Depository (TSBD) Building located at 411 Elm Street, Dallas, Texas. This is the window where the shots were fired on November 22, 1963:

Photographs 1, 2 & 3 were taken from a spot north of the window looking south with a surveyor's measuring rod located near the window.

Photograph 4 depicts V. RAY BAGGETT, Bureau employee, sitting on a box near the window with the surveyor's measuring rod nearby. This photograph was also taken from a spot north of the window looking south.

Photograph 5 depicts V. RAY BAGGETT, who stands 5'8½" tall, standing next to the window with the surveyor's measuring rod nearby. This photograph was also taken from a spot north of the window looking south.

Photograph 6 depicts a view of the window from a spot west looking east with the measuring rod standing on the east side of the window.

It is noted that the surveyor's measuring rod is marked in feet and tenths of a foot.

It is also noted that since November 22, 1963, a 5/8" plywood floor has been added to the regular flooring of the sixth floor of the TSBD Building.
