"... The new investigation into the assassination of Robert Kennedy is not going to run into any opposition from Senator Edward Kennedy. Kennedy says the Los Angeles County investigation into the death of his brother won't be easy to watch, but the Senator says it should be done: "(unclear) It is painful to the members of the family, but that shouldn't be the consideration - it ought to be what evidence is before the duly constituted procedures of the law. And if there is new information, new evidence, then that ought to be considered." The Senator made his comments (unclear)..."
