Murky, Improbable World of Ferrie

By George Lardner Jr. Washington Post Staff Writer

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 25 more six years ago, on Aug. 30, 1981, two young men in a Plymouth convertible were braced by police in a residential neighborhood near the New Orleans lake front. In the car, officers reported, were found a fully loaded 38 callber Smith and Wesson and a makeup kit with human hair, sealing gum and seingors. Both belonged to one David W. Ferris, One of the young men in the car said they were waiting for him.

The police were, apparently, akeptical. The neighborhood and been plagued with furglaries. The two young menied the officers to a neighborhood home occupied by Sergio Arcscha Smith, local head of a Cuban liberation group.

Arcacha's wife said Ferrie had been there earlier.

The connection between Ferrie and members of a Cuisan exile group, appears to be a key link in the controversial investigation District Atlorney Jim Garrison is conflucting into the assassination of President Kennedy.

Nothing has surfaced consecting Ferrie or anyone else on Garrison's list to the assassination. Garrison has yet to disclose a shred of evidence? But he flamboyantly claims to have "solved" the assassination and, an investigation by Newsweek and The Washington Post found, he is looking for Sergio Areacha Smith for questioning.

It is a strange, murky, improbable world that the district attorney's office is reconstructing. The prosecutor has even stated that he does not believe Lee Harvey Oswald killed anyone in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963. Instead he is concentrating on Cubans.

So far the only signs of where all this may be leading Jim Garrison lie in the tangled life of David William Ferrie—who died last week of what the police and the coroner have said were natural eauses. Characteristically, Garrison disagrees, insisting it was a suicide.

With his bizarre red wig and painted eyebrows, Ferrie who once studied to become a Catholic priest but was considered too unstable and arbitrary, played many roles—pilot, philosopher, private detective, medical expert, building inspector, high school teacher, and confidente and molder of young men. Another was Cuban freedom fighter.

Born in Cleveland 49 years 1830, Ferrie insisted he had thever been to Cuba, but that didn't keep him from talking about it. In July, 1961, for example, he spoke to the New Orleans chapter of the Millitary Order of the World Wars on "Cuba—April, 1981, Present and Future" but he was cut off by a chapter official who found the remarks offensive.

Just what Perrie said is unclear, but one man present is reported to have said Ferrie complained sharply a brout "the President of the United States and the Commander in Chief of our Armed Forces," apparently for the failure of the Bay of Pigs invasion. Ferrie, it was also recalled, had brought with him a 17-year old Latin American boy as a show of part of the work he had been doing for "Cuban liberation."

At one point, Perrie was also alleged to have been "working out of" the New Orisans office of the Frente Revolucinario Democratico headed locally by Arcacha who, Newsweek news reporter Philip D. Carter found, moved from New Orleans well before the assassination and wound up in Dallas.

In the police investigation of the Aug. 30 incident revolving around Sergio Arcacha Smith's home here, the New Orleans intelligence division reported, several months later, that "apparently this group (the Cuban Revolutionary Democratic Front) was legitimate in mature and presumably had the unofficial sanction of the CIA although this could not be determined locally.

Sergio Areacha Smith, it was also reported, had been removed as New Orleans head of the group.

Perrie's continued interest in the group, if any, remains unknown. Several hours after President Kennedy's assassination, Perrie and two youths -Alvin Roland Beaubuoes and Patrick L. Martens-left for a weekend drive to Texas that brought them first to Houston on Nov. 23 at 4:30 a.m. (One "Layton Martens" had been at Areacha's apartment when police rapped on the door back in 1961; he had furnished them then with identification saying he was second in command here of the Cuban group headed by Arcacha.)

Ferrie and the two youths subsequently drove to Galveston and made their way back to New Orleans by way of Alexandria, La., on Nov. 24.

Ferrie found his rooms had been searched—a mounmental job if they were as cluttered then as they were at his death—and found the district attorney's office was looking for him.

They had been alerted by Jack S. Martin, now 53, one time private detective, newsman, deputy sheriff "and what have you," according to Mrs. Martin. Martin was also a bishop of an obscure and dissident Catholic sect who once ordained Ferrie into the order.

Martin gave authorities a batch of rumors about Ferrie, including allegations that Zerrie may have once taught entary doubts, and worries Oswald how to shoot, that he that there might have been may have hypnotized Oswald, a second assassin," Ferrie plane.

wryly in an interview snormy before he died. He said Martin — now "somewhere in Mexico," according to his wife—delighted in stirring up trouble. Mrs. Martin said her husband has "a violent Maybe the astrologers killed in the strologers killed in temper" and often "drinks Kennedy." heavily."

Ferrie once more. "They used because of an obscure falling-the names Martin gave them," out they had Run he sant Ferrie charged in the inter-out they had But, he said; view. He also asserted that he view. He also asserted that he had nothing to do with any rison directly for months for a face-to-face talk about what, the District Attorney wanted

That Garrison's theories revolve around Cubans was clear from an interview with pri vate detective William Gur vich, one of Garrison's chief aides in the investigating. He referred several times to thestimony before the Warren Commission about a "power ful" Cuban which conflicted with the preponderance of testimons pointing to Oswald. After acknowledging mom pilot of a rumored "getaway said he was convinced there was no plot. He suggested "You would have to meet for size. "I've got a real plot Jack Martin repetitively, to for him," he said in his last in-appreciate him," Ferrie said terview, opening his eyes wide wryly in an interview shortly in mock horror. "The astrol-

Of Ferrie, an FBI agent told Newsweek's Hugh Aynesworth in Dalias several months ago,
"We picked him clean. You won't find anything there."

Not even Carlos Bringuier, a firm believer in a conspiracy theory of the assassination, seems to think that Garrison's quest for Arcacha will be any more fruitful. A Cuban exile Nonetheless when District Attorney Garrison launched his investigation last November, his men called in David Ferrie once more. "They used