Mary Solok

21 September 1973

Dear Mary,

Would you believe, I just received your letter of the 29th of August?

Many thanks for sending me the tear sheet of Sherrill's bibliography on which Accessories is mentioned. As you surmised, it is gratifying to know that one's work is still alive and in use after the passage of considerable time.

My main reason for writing is not only to thank you but to congratulate you most warmly on your new job of Managing Editor of Liveright—a reason for rejoicing personally and also another blow struck for women's lib. I wish you all success and happiness in your new job.

I would be happy to have lunch with you, preferably after the UN General Assembly ends late in December, or dinner one night if you are in the mood. We are, after all, close neighbors. When I see you, I can tell you about my nightmare summer in 1972, when I was not only withdrawn but in deep depression, and in the hospital for almost six weeks.

I would also like to talk to you about possibilities of publishing new work on the JFK assassination or earlier work placed into the context of Watergate. I have many letters and phonecalls from strangers who say, as you did, that in the light of Watergate they now agree with the critics about a conspiracy culminating on 11/22/63. As this is the tenth anniversary year, do keep an eye out for media coverage—I have given interviews to Esquire, the Philadelphia Inquirer, and to a young writer who expects his piece to be published in Harper's.

All the best!

Sincerely yours,

Sylvia Meagher
