Dear Menahem —

I know that, unlike Harold Weisberg, you will never dream of instructing me on my use of money. Let me volunteer, then, my regret that I cannot be as helpful as last year.

~~I am still awaiting payment of the estate, from which I will then pay out some substantial sums which I feel morally committed to do, because of my father's express intentions which he did not live long enough to fulfill.~~

TMO is very important to me, for quite selfish and self-interested reasons.

Quite apart from ideology or other considerations, I want very much for TMO to continue. My gratitude for TMO's constant help to my work, and for keeping alive the issue of the WR, is far, far greater than the enclosed check might suggest. I wish it could be more — but I hope that it will turn out that TMO will have more than enough when all friends have been heard from.

Sylvia
