

11 Oct. 1968
(Conference Room 2)

Dear Menckham -

Charles Howard just phoned, reproaching himself bitterly for the injustice he did you. He says that his memory had completely failed and misled him.

And he seemed entirely honest and really ashamed - so I told him that I felt sure you would be satisfied and consider the incident closed.

I hope your trip is proving worthwhile and look forward to your return. In any event, I wanted you to know about Howard's call as soon as you arrive.

Hastily -

Sylvia