Dear Sylvia -

Enclosed is the finished version of my monograph on the dustlike fragments. I plan eventually to add photos and X-rays demonstrating the phenomenon in question, but in other respects I regard the thing complete.

I have so far sent copies to Weistberg and Roffman, and shall probably be sending to others too (e.g., Braverman)

I am submitting the monograph to the National Rifle Association for consideration whether to publish it in The American Rifleman. I doubt that they will go for it, but it seems a good and logical place to try. The Amer. Rifleman has nationwide circulation and occasionally gets media attention. I'll let you know how things go.

In the mean time, if you have comments or criticisms, I welcome them.

I moved home this summer and have been exceedingly busy with painting, fixing, improving, and the like, and have had little time for much else. Gradually, however, I am returning to the swing.

I hope things went well for you.

Roffman submitted his book to a publisher, but just got a rejection. I learned this second hand - through Harold - and do not yet know the reasons for the rejection.

Stay well —

Dick
