Dear Mr. Goldberg,

Please refer to your letter of March 14, 1967 and my reply of the 16th. I find myself embarrassed and apologetic at the trouble I have caused you, because my publishers have today informed me that they have decided not to use a photographic appendix in my book, as originally planned, because of production logistics. Consequently, I no longer require permission to use the Altgens photograph, which arrived in the mail today, nor the photograph itself.

If it is possible, I should like to return the photograph and receive a refund of my payment of $18.38. If you do not wish to accept such a return, perhaps some adjustment can be made to take account of the fact that there will be no commercial use of it, as envisaged earlier.

Your consideration will be greatly appreciated.

Yours very sincerely,

Sylvia Meagher
