Thank you. The xerox is temporarily out of whack, and I don't want to hold you up.
The machines may be about to take over, but I've yet to meet one that stood a chance of bringing it off.

IF Naomi Thompson hasn't reached you before you get there, please call her.

Max Lerner, bless his soul, has agreed to read galley's - saying ~~his~~ his time is limited, but that he would try.
