The Sacco-Vanzetti Case"
by

Diamond K. Fraenkel

(N.Y. Russell & Russell, 1969)

"Shelley Braverman, a ballistics expert, wrote several pieces about the case: 'Were Sacco and Vanzetti Framed?' in Guns Magazine, May 1963; 'Investigation, Criminal' in the Encyclopedia Britannica of 1966, and 'Forensic Ballistic Errors' in Guns Digest, 1966. He cast great doubt on the authenticity of the so-called 'mortal bullet.'"
