

Dear Bob,

I just finished your paper. I haven't yet read the material you sent, I haven't yet read it with real care because of the pressure at the UN, which has now been complicated by a recurrence of bronchitis & asthma.

The General Assembly has now been extended from the 21st to the 23rd and there is some doubt that it can conclude even then. But I still hope that it will not jeopardize our meeting during your stay at New York.

I agree very much with what you said about technical studies such as Cutler's in comparison to wide-ranging speculations. What bothered me in Cutler's monograph was that his whole analysis was based on a frame for the Connally hit earlier than frame 238, for which I have always felt that T. D. Thompson provided very strong and solid evidence.

What has become of Paris Hammond? His phone has been "discontinued temporarily" since September. Hoping to see you soon,
