

13 July 1968

Dear Ed:

(1) The FBI clerk who was the subject of Lane's "affidavit" was William Walter, not (as I thought) William Wood. William Wood is the RFK campaign worker who overheard a conversation in Arabic between Sirhan and two other men, on Sunday and/or Monday night, before the shooting of RFK. Too bad: it would have been lovely if Boxley had turned out to be Walter, instead of Wood.
