SUBJECT : Speakers from the Committee to Investigate Assassinations

Enclosed is some "propaganda" about our Committee which is often alluded to as the "poor man's CIA."

Some of our Directors and Staff Members have been under increasing pressure to address public groups on various aspects of the major assassinations in our country and abroad. We have made, among others, a number of talks before student groups. Until now, we have never charged a fee for such appearances and, too frequently, have not been reimbursed for expenses.

Unfortunately, we are having much difficulty financing our Committee and its rather extensive work. For this reason, there are three of us who are proposing to address campus groups in an effort to pay for some of our activities.

In addition to myself and several of our Directors, there is Mr. Robert Smith, our Director of Research, and Mr. Jim Lesar, the Committee's Counsel. From necessity, each of us have prepared several alternative talks, usually with slides and a good part of the time reserved for a Question-and-Answer session. As I am James Earl Ray's attorney, I am quite familiar with the King case, but also feel qualified to discuss the JFK and RFK killings. Bob Smith is very conversive with our efforts to computerize our vast store of information in an effort to solve the several murders. Jim Lesar is particularly well versed in the many lawsuits pending with regard to these killings.

If you would be interested in arranging speaking engagements for one or more of us, please contact us at your earliest convenience so that we may discuss the matter.

Sincerely yours,

Bernard Fensterwald, Jr.
Executive Director
