JOE CERN BROWN, partner, Air Line Ground Transportation Company, Love Field, advised his company provides limousine service between Dallas and Fort Worth, Texas. He stated he resides at 7008 Hovenkamp Street, Fort Worth 18, Texas. BROWN said he was born May 28, 1913, at Stoneburg, Texas.

BROWN advised he knew of the scheduled arrival of President JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY at Love Field on November 22, 1963, and on this date kept his son, JAMES DOUGLAS BROWN, out of school and brought him to work with him so he could witness the arrival of President KENNEDY and his entourage and take movies of this event. He said that around 11:20 a.m. or so he was at his place of employment at the Baggage Reclaim area at Love Field and it was at this time his son left him and went out to gate No. 28 to await the arrival of the President. He said when the President arrived his son took several sequences of this arrival from different positions at the airport. He said one film sequence was taken from the roof of the south concourse of the terminal building and another film sequence was taken from inside the fenced enclosure at the point of the President's arrival. He said his son had taken his Wollensak Model 43 8 mm camera with him for this purpose. He said the camera was loaded with Ansco color film.

BROWN stated President KENNEDY in his opinion was one of the greatest presidents, very special to him, and in support of this opinion related the following story:

BROWN said he was a sergeant in the First Marine Division in World War II, was assigned Serial No. 46 19 42, and served from September, 1942, to March 15, 1945, receiving an honorable discharge. He said during this period of service he participated in a number of assaults on enemy islands. He said on one occasion his division was assigned to assault one of the islands, name unrecalled, in the Russell Island group in the Coral Sea. He said his division was brought to this location by the destroyer Mandley and during the night they transferred from the destroyer to 50 foot lighters. He said in the particular lighter he was in there were 11 marines and two navy personnel, a lieutenant junior grade and a coxswain. BROWN stated that BROWN stated after several other contacts with Mrs. GEWERTZ he learned there were approximately 18 people who had taken film sequences of the Presidential motorcade on November 22, 1963, known to Mrs. GEWERTZ and the idea evolved that if they put these film sequences together into a movie it could be marketed commercially. BROWN stated that on March 18, 1964, these 18 people including himself incorporated under the name of the Dallas Cinema Associates, Incorporated. He said all of the 18 stockholders will share equally in any profit realized from the sale of this movie. He further advised he believes this film will be available for public sale sometime in June, 1964.

BROWN stated he did not know and to his knowledge never had any contact with LEE HARVEY OSWALD or JACK RUBY.
