New Orleans, La. 70119

Dear Mr. Garrison:

I received your letter of October 4, 1967. It will be published in our section "From Readers' Letters."

If behind certain ambiguous references in your letter is the thought that anyone other than the undersigned is the unassisted author of the editorial in question, then you once more prove to be poor at guessing.

To me your statement, "I simply do not bother to explain things and I could not care less whether the writer of the article understands or does not understand," is preposterous. It would be forgivable only to a hermit. When made by a public official, no more is needed to disqualify him from office.

I am willing to submit to your leadership on blind faith--such as you seem to insist upon--no more than I am willing to submit to Warren's, or anyone else's, leadership on blind faith.

Sincerely,

M. S. Arnoni
