Mrs. OSWALD expressed a keen curiosity concerning the location of Hutch's Super Market in Irving, Texas, and stated that she believed that she would conduct her own investigation and possibly contact Hutch's Super Market, because she felt that she could learn a great deal of information, because she was the "scorowing nother" and that people "just tended to give more information" to her than they would investigators. Mrs. OSWALD said "I am a scorowing nother", but still more "I am a very good investigator."
