Dear Miss Heathcote,

As you may know, my Subject Index to the Warren Report and Hearings and Exhibits is out of print. I find myself rather seriously inconvenienced by the lack of the copy that was left with you last May, which is one of my only two copies.

I would be most grateful if you would mail the Index back to me, by return mail if that is not inconvenient. This assumes, of course, that the copy in your custody was not a casualty of the recent bombing of your premises—apparently by the same Batistianos who fired a bazooka at my office building, somewhat earlier. If it was destroyed in the attack, I will be sick. It is irreplaceable.

With thanks for your cooperation,

Yours sincerely,
