Dear Paul,

I am snowbound at home and since I could not get to a post office with the Ball/Belin Report #1 dated February 25, 1964, I decided to copy the pages on Charles Givens. I am enclosing those pages herewith (pages 100 through 111).

These pages are exact line for line copies, incorporating errors and inconsistencies contained in the originals. For example, some pages have numbers at the top as well as page numbers at the bottom, but not the same numbers. On page 101 (numbered 104 at the top), line 6, the phrase "quit for lunch" appears twice on the original.

I do hope that these typewritten copies will suffice for your purposes, because I do hate to send the whole volume off, for however short a time, or risk its damage or loss in the mails.

Let me just add, with reference to page 100, that I omitted a long paragraph which appears on the top three-fourths of the page but which deals with Frankie Kaiser and the clipboard and not with Givens.

All the best,

Sincerely yours,

Enclosure
