Dear Bob,

This is a postscript to the letter I sent you earlier this evening, which was based in part on a misunderstanding of a message from Sylvia which was relayed to me indirectly. She indicated to me, when I called her just now, that she has not had any contact with you ~~concerning~~ concerning the recently released CD's. Jones Harris has offered to make available a set of these documents, if he can, apparently intending to work with you; I had understood that you had initiated this offer. I'm sorry if my confusion has caused any problems or misunderstanding at your end. Also, I now gather that the whole deal is less certain than I had thought. Of course, if it does go through I would be glad to cooperate, as I indicated in the earlier letter.

Regards,

Paul

PS: Just to fill you in a bit more: I asked Sylvia last week if she was interested in the Archives documents, and if she could split the costs with me; she told me that she was. The reason she called to tell me about the offer that had been made to her was so that I would not be relying on her for help with the costs. Again, sorry for the confusion.
