Dear Sylvia,

Thanks for your card; here's the Bradlee piece and the latest newsletter (#5). Harry Livingstone alleges that Bradlee done him wrong, which may be, but as far as I can tell Livingstone is a wild man. It's too bad that it's largely people like him who have the energy to go around talking to witnesses. It turns out that Dr. Perry - the doctor whose letter to me I described in ~~the~~ the last newsletter (he's in N.Y.) - had been talked to (or at) by Harry L. some time ago, which could have been enough to put him off the critics forever! Myself, I just write a few letters to a few people, hoping to ~~hit~~ hit some who will give ~~xxxx~~ out information willingly. It's been pretty quiet out here; Sue and Beth (now over 4) and I ~~xx~~ spent 5 days at a family camp in the mountains, which is about as long as I can stand being away from the comforts of the city!

Best regards,

Paul
