Tricia Nixon Confers
With Two Protesters

WASHINGTON, May 7 (UPI)—Tricia Nixon met for an hour today with two Finch College war protesters.

The President's daughter, who was graduated from Finch in 1968, met at the White House with Ann Holmes, president of the student government at Finch, and Missey Allen, the student government secretary.

According to the two students, Miss Nixon was "shocked that so many millions" of students were against the Vietnam war and "distrust their Government."

Miss Nixon, 23 years old, invited the two women to the White House after they had participated in a protest demonstration in Lafayette Square, a park across from the White House, with 100 fellow students and 10 faculty members.
