9 Hurt as Police Disperse Group in Midtown After City Hall Peace Rally

By HOMER BIGART

Nine antiwar demonstrators were injured yesterday when the police forcibly dispersed at Avenue of the Americas and 39th Street a militant group that had marched uptown from a peace rally of 20,000 at City

After letting some 1,000 protesters, mostly youths, disrupt traffic in the Village, Chelsea and Herald Square, the police suddenly called a halt to the northward incursion.

With nightsticks extended, they charged into the ranks of marchers, sending youths sprawling and putting the rest to panicky flight. The nine injured were treated at St. Clare's Hospital, 415 West 51st Street.

This was the only violence to mar an otherwise peaceful and orderly demonstration by a newly formed coalition of workers and students.

The group, called the Coalition for Peace, had hoped for a demonstration large enough to rival the crowd of helmeted construction workers and others, variously estimated at from 60,000 to 150,000 people, who

Continued on Page 35, Column 1 Students and workers arguing their points during yesterday's peace rally at City Hall

to support President Nixon's to pass. war policies.

But the antiwar demonstrators fell far short of the throng assembled by the construction ped by. Then ranks. From a temporary stand the youths. at Broadway and Murray Street, labor leaders told the crowd that the chanting of peace sloployes.

Given this injunction, the mischief. crowd was not wildly demon-strative. Mayor Lindsay issued a statement—before the flurry cade at 40th Street, allowed tion outside the Woolworth stration peaceful.

"Today's demonstration at City Hall the Mayor said. "It reflects reach Bryant Park. Scuffles credit on both the leaders of broke out when the police beparticipants and the police who ed policemen rode into the liance between the academic demonstration, once again did a thoroughly professional job.

"The two rallies, seen together, show that the American tradition of peaceful demonstration and dialogue is still the best and only way."

The brief confrontation on the Avenue of the Americas ended a slow march by two groups of demonstrators that left City Hall after the rally and tried to reach Bryant Park.

Traffic Slowed

Both groups numbered about Civilian 1.000. They walked north on Board. Church Street and the Avenue of the Americas, slowing traffic behind them to a crawl.

Straggling through Greenwich Village, the first group, carrying signs assailing President Nixon and Vice President Agnew, received a mixed reception.

At one point, an attic window was flung open. Framed in it was a little gray-haired old woman. In her hands she held the Stars and Stripes. From a group of long-haired, sandalshod youths marching behind the black flag of anarchism came a challenge: "What kind of flag is that?"

The woman leaned far out on the window sill and waved the flag while the rebel youth shuffled by.

"Take a bath, you Commie ams," this modern-day Barbums," bara Frietchie counseled the youths.

An irate truck driver

Continued From Page I, Col. 4 harassed the marchers by blowing his horn as he followed for acting as an observer for the massed at City Hall Wednesday several blocks, vainly trying New York Civil Liberties Union,

9 Injured as Police Disperse Peace Group

workers. It was also less color- surrounded his truck and tried with police officers that the ful. Only a scattering of small to pull him out. The police group would be allowed to American flags appeared in the came to his aid and dispersed reach to Bryant Park to dis-

The First Arrest

gans was immature. made their first arrest, seizing one of the complaints, said the "We will not compete with one of several youths who police charge was "entirely unmade their first arrest, seizing one of the complaints, said the the slogans of phony patri-surrounded a squad car, bang-expected. otism," said Victor Gotbaum, ing their fists on the hood He At City ousm, said victor Gotbaum, ing their fists on the hood. He At City Hall, some 2,700 head of District 37 of the was identified as Karl Rosen policemen, most of them on American Federation of State stain of 56 Mountain 19 American Federation of State, stein, of 56 Mountain House overtime, ringed City Hall Park County and Municipal Em-Road, South Orange, N. J., and and kept the antiwar demon-of violence on the Avenue of themselves to be shunted west Building. A pro-Administration the Americas—praising the ward on 39th Street. Another crowd sang "God Bless Amerleaders for keeping the demon-solid line of police diverted ica" at an antiwar group who them southward on Braadway confinenced them with many the gan moving them back. Mount hailed the beginning of "an alcrowd and it broke in panic community and the labor movedown side streets.

At least two of the nine persons injured were arrested. Dr. Steven Jonas, 33 years old, of said, "you are against us, and 249 Dean Street, Brooklyn, was you are for more people dying." charged with assault after he legedly shoved an officer.

Complaint

Leonard Kolleeny, a lawyer called the police action "an un-Outside the Women's House of Detention he nearly slip-against the marchers after he a crowd had reached an understanding perse there.

Dr. John Moran, associate At 21st Street, the police Manhattan College, who filed

he was charged with criminal strators from clashing with a group of flag-carrying constructhem southward on Broadway confronted them with peace "Today's demonstration at the next group coming signs. For 10 minutes the group ty Hall — like yesterday's was peaceful and orderly,"

Was peaceful and orderly,"

Total Broadway confronted them with peace signs. For 10 minutes the group the Avenue of the Americas taunted each other until the seemed more determined to police forced them hack

At the rally, Mr. Gotbaum ment."

"If you are not with us," he Political candidates introduced allegedly punched a policeman to the crowd included Howard Louis Lionni, 37, of 54 St. J. Samuels, a candidate for the Marks Place, was booked for disorderly conduct after he alernor; State Senator Basil A. Later 16 complaints about Paterson, running for the Demothe police action were filed cratic nomination of Lieutenant with the Police Department's Governor, and Paul O'Dwyer, Review seeking the Democratic Senatorial nomination.

NYM

35