Dear Sylvia,

It's a beautiful, beautiful book! The design is really outstanding. I can't comment further because I've just started Chapter I -- but it looks great.

The reason I haven't gotten further is that I've been so harrassed for the last ten days I haven't been able to sit down. Spent last weekend in jail and then was visited by the FBI on Wednesday -- our old friend from l'affaire Vaganov, Agent Lewis from the Chester, Pa. FBI office. He said anything I said could be used against me, so I didn't have a very long conversation with him. Funny world, and are FBI agents stupid..... Wow!

Geis has set back publication date a bit but I don't think publication date means much anymore. The Saturday Evening Post is going to carry a condensation of the book in the issue on sale Nov. 21st. So as part of that deal Geis moved pub date back to January 8th. But there will be books in the book stores by November 20th so I don't know what it^{is} supposed to mean. I think in effect (if not in theory) our charges will go off simultaneously. I'll be in touch -- the project for the week is to bone up on the case and your book is a perfect vehicle for that. Thanks so much for sending a copy down so soon. "Six Seconds" will be bound by November 8th.

All the best,

Trish
