

MAXWELL GEISMAR

WINFIELD. HARRISON, N. Y.

November 9th, 67

Dear Sylvia,

In haste, just to say that I got hung up about reading Accessories for a few days--

But am reading it nightly now with the most intense pleasure, interest and admiration--excitement....I know it is the book so far on the Warren Commission and the Assassination, just as I imagine it will continue to be the book ~~a~~ of major reference after all the new volumes continue to appear.

If you want to quote that, or change it in any way, since I imagine it is a standard message to you, do so; I would be delighted & honored to be quoted on this book...Meanwhile like the books of Han Suyin, it is a book I don't want to finish; I read it slowly, studiously; it has so much to offer me that I did not know....What news about it?

max