Dear Mr Jamieson,

I must thank you most warmly for your thoughtful letter of September 21st and the helpful suggestions you offered. I will surely follow up with the companies you mentioned. Meanwhile, I am happy to say that two publishing houses have indicated definite interest in the index and are actively considering the possibilities of publication. That is encouraging, of course, but it is equally heartening to receive so helpful and friendly a letter as yours. Again, I thank you very much.

Yours very sincerely,
