Dear Dave,

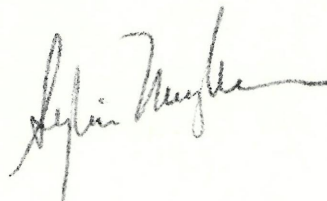

I have survived the blackout without mishap...What do you think about the very curious death of Dorothy Kilgallen? Weirdly enough, she was reading a book by Robert Ruark when she died...of causes still unknown.

In my letter of yesterday, I did not take time to comment on the photos which you offered. Is it a set of 24 at 95¢ each? Or a lesser number? If you will clarify the total cost, I will send a check by return mail.

Your discussions with W-L- are SENSATIONAL. I am fascinated and in suspense. I would give a great deal for copies of those Xerox letters. Why don't I enclose a check right now--to cover the set of photos of Dealey Plaza about which you wrote, @ 95¢, and to cover if possible ~~the~~ photocopies of the Xerox letters (W-L- to the others, and the replies) which I would treat with UTMOST discretion and, if you stipulate, keep absolutely secret from anyone and everyone. If there is any balance from the enclosed check ($30) you can either return it or hold it to cover any future expenses on my behalf. Okay?

Please be sure to keep in touch and let me know any further developments. I will do the same. Maggie will show you notes on my recent conversation with Eisenb.

Hastily, and with renewed thanks for your most interesting letter,
