The F. B. I. Distributes Two New Photographs of Ray

WASHINGTON, May 7 (UPI) —The Federal Bureau of Investigation distributed today two more photographs of the accused killer of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. One of the photos was described as "an extremely good likeness."

Both were snapshots of James Earl Ray, alias Eric Starvo Galt, an escaped convict accused of shooting Dr. King to death in Memphis April 4.

The "extremely good likeness" is a candid photograph of Ray in a business suit and tie and shows almost his full face, taken in late January or early February in California.

The other, which the F.B.I. said was taken last November in Mexico, shows him wearing sun glasses and what appears to be a white sports shirt. The F.B.I. said that Ray was known to wear sun glasses frequently.

The two new photographs will be displayed throughout the country along with three other pictures of Ray that now appear on the F.B.I.'s wanted posters. The bureau refused to say where or how the photos were obtained.

Ray, who escaped from prison April 23, 1967, by hiding in a truck, is wanted by the F.B.I. for illegal flight to avoid prosecution in Tennessee for Dr. King's murder.

Ray was added to the F.B.I. list of 10 most-wanted criminals April 20. There have been reports of the search extending to various foreign countries, including Australia.
