VE TO BY ASSASSINATION

"There is, without doubt, a conspiracy by elements of the Federal Government to keep the facts of this case from ever becoming known. (p. 70) President Kennedy was killed for one reason: because he was working for a reconciliation with the U.S.S.R. and Castro's Cuba. (p. 74) But then, Kennedy... began to crack down on C.I.A. operations against Cuba. As a result, on July 31, 1963, the F.B.I. raided the headquarters of the group of Cuban exiles and Minutemen training north of Lake Pontchartrain and confiscated all their guns and ammunition - despite the fact that the operation had the sanction of the C.I.A. (p. 156) Our information indicates that it was shortly after this setback that the group switched direction and decided to assassinate John Kennedy instead of Fidel Castro, after the 'betrayal' of the Bay of Pigs disaster. (p. 157) In a very real and terrifying sense, our government is the C.I.A. and the Pentagon, with Congress reduced to a debating society. I'm afraid, based on my own experience, that fascism will come to America in the name of national security." (last page)

From Interview with Garrison, (see bibliography)

New Orleans, May 28. (UPD) United States District Judge Frederick Heebe issued a temporary restraining order today against District Attorney Jim Garrison, prohibiting any further prosecution of Clay L. Shaw. New York Times, Wed., May 29, 1968.

"This article is designed to explore the meaning of the Kennedy assassination. The latter portion of this article states a model of explanation for the assassination. The model explains the assassination in terms of motivation. We conclude that the evidence supports the concept that the assassination was used to militarize foreign policy and perpetuate the Cold War against the under developed peoples. (p. 1) There is much reason to believe the Cold War was dying out in Europe, and that the end of it was to a great extent symbolized by the beginning of new relations with Russia evidenced by Kennedy's Test Ban Treaty. (p. 49) Not a Pax Americana enforced on the world by American weapons of war... not merely peace for Americans, but peace for all men; not merely peace in our time but peace for all time. (American Univ. Address) (p. 50). It may seem irresponsible to conceive of a military plot to eliminate Kennedy, and ensure continuation of the Cold War. However, we must realize for one thing that Kennedy was not only becoming more difficult to control, but he himself... did not regard a military take-over as implausible. (p. 53) And Senator Morse has appraised us of the fact that Mr. Kennedy told him 10 days before he was felled by an assassin's bullet in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963 that he was re-examining Viet Nam Policy. (p. 58) Was it all a coincidence that a change in leadership in Washington was followed by a change in policy...? (p. 58) Whatever the motivation, clearly the Cold War had been moved to Asia. (p. 62) Already on Dec. 14, 1963, military juntas in the Dominican Republic and Honduras were recognized. (p. 166)

What is significant is that powerful interests, particularly those advocating a military hard line, who had been to some degree held in check by Truman, Eisenhower, and Kennedy, were now being given their own way... seemed almost more as if they were in control rather than merely being influential. (p. 67) If the end of the war in Vietnam may itself be irrational from the standpoint of human standards, in terms of achieving the end of continuing the Cold War, every move is perfectly rational. (p. 74) We cannot explain this war on the aims or dynamic of a democratic society, but it makes perfect sense in terms of a military society. When did the military gain control? They weren't there in that utterly dominant sense before the assassination, and they were after. (p. 8.)

Conspiracy Meaning, Solandria, (see bibliography)

Assassination with impunity is inherent in the American Way. The government can guarantee every technological miracle - from the hydrogen bomb to the most lethal chemical-biological weapons, to a rocket to Mars, and an electronic data bank to keep track of every detail of our lives from cradle to grave. But the government does not find and punish the assassins who are shooting down one by one, our noblest and most progressive individuals. Martin Luther King, truly a Christ-like and beloved man, now has been added to the roster of martyrs which, since 1960 has inscribed the four Birmingham children, Medgar Evers, William Moore, Andrew Goodman, James Chaney, Michael Schwerner, Malcolm X, Jimmie Lee Jackson, James Reeb, Viola Liuzzo, Jonathan Myrick Daniels, Richard Morrisroe, Wharless Jackson, and John Fitzgerald Kennedy, at home; and Patrice Lumumba, Che Guevara, and others assassinated abroad who were, directly or indirectly, victims of American veto by assassination.

Less than five years separate the assassinations of President Kennedy and Martin Luther King. Since we have learned nothing from history, since we have mocked truth and hurled the Warren Report into the sorrowing face of justice, we are indeed condemned to reliving the events we have tried to falsify and forget.

We will be wise to scrutinize with utmost care the pronouncements made by the local and federal authorities, who always try to sell us a lone deranged murderer when a political assassination has been committed.

That the assassins of President Kennedy escaped identification, apprehension, and trial is an inescapable fact. The immunity which they were given knowingly or unknowingly, by those who value "political truth" above truth, is an open encouragement to would-be assassins, no less than the unavenged assassinations of black children in Birmingham and civil rights workers in Mississippi and in the many other garrisons of bigotry and bloodlust in this wretched country. Those who chose imperatives other than the truth about the Dallas assassination have the blood of Martin Luther King on their conscience, if not on their hands.

The system under which we live produces assassins with the same predictability that Con Edison produces electricity. The system kills countless innocent people in Asia, arms dictators against their own people in every corner of the world, and disposes of leaders of disliked governments by assassination if need be.

Things will continue as they are, exactly as they are, after the ceremonial mourning for Martin Luther King, and the mourning for the victims of the assassinations which will be committed soon again, by the racists or the cold-warriors who are the system's true sons.

Continued and rivers of tears for Martin Luther King will change nothing. If we do not change the system, we will have new assassinations, of the next great moral leader, or the next President who tries to co-exist with Cuba or China. We will have more Warren Reports. We will have new Vietnams. And we will deserve them.
