Dear Gary,

Thanks for your letter of the 14th and the copies of your Volume V index. I have been working on the key to names, grouping the names according to the categories into which they fall, and it has turned out to be a bigger job than I anticipated. Under "organized crime" alone, I have 15 columns of names, and almost as many under "associates of Jack Ruby". These lists will need alphabetization, hopefully by your miraculous machine, and I will be sending them to you in about another week or so.

In the course of compiling these lists I encountered some errors in the indexes. I am enclosing a list of the corrections which should be made before you start the amalgamation job. Please send a copy to Paul Hech; and please return the original with a xerox or two to me. I will make the corrections in the copies that will be submitted to Scarecrow.

No other news. I am really tired, as I am sure that you must be, and not looking forward to compiling the list of exhibits.

Best regards,
