Dear Mrs. Meagher,

I'm sorry it's taken me so long to answer your letter. You asked me to try to find out some things about Oswald's arraignment. Since I won't be back in Dallas for at least 4 more months, I asked the questions by letter of a woman who works for a judge there. I've followed up the letter a few times and still have received no reply. I'm sorry. I'll keep trying.

I just found out that my set of the 26 Volumes has finally been delivered to my house in Massachusetts. I can't fit all of them on the available space on our bus so I'm going to have to read them a few at a time. I've sent for volumes 1-5 and 16-18 to begin. Is that the best way to go about it? I really would appreciate any suggestions on the most intelligent way of going about reading them.

Also, as of right now we have a day off in Washington D.C. on which I plan to visit the Archives to view some of the photographic evidence. Could you make any suggestions to me regarding that?

Oh, the brother of one of the girls I'm touring with will soon be clerking with Judge Sarah Hughes. Are there any questions that you want me to have him ask her?

Penn Jones doesn't have an extra copy of the Subject Index and I've misplaced the notice that you sent. Could you let me know the address of University Microfilms and the prices again?

One of the most haunting things that I remember from your book was the FBI report about the undeliverable package addressed to Lee Oswald. Has anything more come to light about this? Could you let me know the Document and page number so that I can order a copy of it?

I'm sorry this has been such a one-way letter. Right now all I can do is ask because I have nothing to say yet. I'm also sorry that it's taken me so long to write...it is normally my habit to answer my letters within 24 hours.

Do you yet have a copy of Curry's JFK ASSASSINATION FILE? If not please let me know because I have an extra copy that I would be happy to send you.

Thank you,

Robert Johnson

We should have some days off in NY in April - if so, may I call you?
