Dear Professor Drinnon:

Many thanks for your prompt response to my invitation to exchange views on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. The news you have offered seminars on the assassination is encouraging. I am eager to know if they were well attended and what took place. If material on them is available may I have the opportunity to read it?

The accompanying pieces should identify my "line" on the assassination. I hope they coincide in essential respects with your views. If necessity to finish your book delays your comment I will understand and wait until you are free to communicate your thought. I trust it will not be long.

Sincerely,

Thomas Stamm
