Dear Aunt Syl-

As always you never forget my birthday. The years do go by quickly. Thank you for your most generous house gift (I should really scold you) - I'm going to use it for a much needed new lamp for the living room. You see how you "lighten" up my life!

Right now I'm going through my seasonal evaluation of myself. I'm looking into the possibilities of going back to college, (right now I'm taking 1 course). Since the prospect of doing clerical & secretarial work 10 years from now does not appeal to me. You were fortunate to have had advancement & opportunities - but in today's job market there is little & very limited expansion without some college background.

The girls are just fine. Julie is such a doll and Amy is very able to acclimate herself to new situations. The change in schools for her was very smooth - almost unnoticeable. She is very athletically inclined. Seven years old is a lot more difficult than 3 1/2 - and at times wasperating.

Russ's visit was just wonderful. He really helped in the Orest Sisters tradition of reorganizing all my clutter from the move. (for 4 weeks all my books were all over the floor & furniture in the living room - a real obstacle course).

The girls enjoyed Ann's visit and I hope she had a good time. I wonder how Richard weathered through his separation?

I've been trying to get my hands on Rolling Stones & New Times & I think I'll be getting them this week.

I'm very glad you have been feeling up. Have you made any commitments for talk shows ^(NET) or interviews? Keep me posted.

Hopefully we will make the trip in next month & am anxious to see you.

Take Care

Love your niece
