Dear Mr. Romberg,

Many thanks for your letter of the 19th. So far as I know, paperback copies of Accessories will be ready in February but the official release date is March. I have sent a copy of your letter to Ms. Susan Bolotin, Assistant Editor, Random House, 201 East 50 Street, New York NY 10022, calling her attention to your request for a review copy of the book and asking her to make one available. Thank you for your kind offer to publicize the paperback.

Unfortunately it was not possible to do a comprehensive update for the paperback. Because my health has not been very good and my free time very restricted, I would have needed a longish time to update the book. However, it will have a new introduction, by Peter Dale Scott, with a few updating items.

With kindest personal regards and all good wishes,

Yours sincerely,
