Dear Sylvia,

Here is Peter's book -- literally hot off the presses. I picked them up at the printer's just last night and had a quick drink with Peter to celebrate. We'll begin the more difficult task of distribution after Christmas, but I wanted to get this one copy in the mail to you immediately in appreciation of all that you have done -- not only to assist in this particular project and in our earlier anthology, but more generally to establish standards and methods of assassination research which are an example to all serious critics.

I think the book has turned out well and hope you'll agree. Let me know if you can use more copies.

With very best wishes for the holiday season,

Yours,

Russ
