Dear Russ,

Thank you for sending me Peter's book. It is a beautiful job and, I hope, the first of many should you decide to become a book publisher. Why not?

I am grateful for the prominence you gave me on the cover and for your very generous remarks about my work. I hope that this effort of yourself and Peter will meet with great success—you deserve it.

As of today, I am retired from my UN job and feeling the first taste of liberation. I will be leaving in mid-January for a cruise around the world. Any mail will be held until my return in mid-April.

With warm good wishes for the New Year, to you and to Peter,

Yours always,
