Ms Sylvia Meagher, 302 West XXXXXXX 12 Street, New York N.Y. 10014 U.S.A.

Dear Sylvia,

As we shall never meet --- since I shall surely go to hell, and you to heaven --- I trust the Christian name will not give offence.

You will be surprised to hear that I have broken the lock on the problem posed by Sam Anson's chapters 6 and 7:-- "On the instructions of his Government", and "The man who never was".

Actually the problem is not difficult provided one has plenty of time --- and at 73 one has all the time one can wish!! -- nor ism one even financially embarrassed since Whitlam gave all those over 70 a pension free of the means test! I much doubt that the country can afford such generosity, but no government dare take it away!!!

The trouble has undbubtedly been that previous students have sought a key! But there are in fact three keys, and one is no use without the others. Indeed even if one finds two, one will still be baffled by the contradictions. Whether one stumbles on all three is more than a matter of luck than ability! If one sees them they are obvious; but one might search for years and inver guess where they are hidden. One consists of a single sentince in the 26 volumes, and another is not even mentioned by the Commission!!!

So much for the present; but I will see that you are my literary executor, if I do not manage to get this into print.

On 28fb78, I wrote to Bernard Fenstervald at 910 16th Street. N.W. Washington D.C. and enclosed a cheque for $5 and asked for a list of any literature which may be available. But I have received no reply, and foolishly I did not keep the number of the banker's cheque so that I cannot even see if it was cashed.

If you can spare the time to check up with Fenstervald's office, I shall be most grateful. I am particularly anxious to view the "Coleman-Slawson Memorandum".

My best wishes to your self.

Sincerely yours,

Chris Candler
